The following communication was received in this office signed by Henry L. Pelkus, former employee of this department retired on pension, August 1, 1927.

14 Castleton Street
Jamaica Plain Mass.
August 1, 1927.

Board of Election Commissioners
City Hall Annex
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen and Madam:-

Permit me to address to you a few words of appreciation for the beautiful and thoughtful tribute you have paid me upon my departure from the City's service.

Overcome with emotion, I was unable to express to you in fitting words my deep gratitude for the honor you have conferred upon me, and what I am about to say can but inadequately convey my feelings.

Your golden words so sincerely spoken went deep into my heart and warmed it with an everlasting glow. It was a revelation to me and it filled me with pride to think that my feeble efforts deserved such recognition at your hands.

You have also honored me by presenting me with a testimonial in concrete form, a marvellous work of art and a gem in literary structure.

Be assured that it will fill a place of honor in my humble home and that I will pass it down to my posterity as a valued treasure.

For all this please accept my profound and most heartfelt thanks.

I was always gratified to be connected with the great City Department which is entrusted with the guardianship of the people's suffrages. The ballot is the very foundation, the underlying principle upon which our Republic rests.

Yours indeed is a sacred trust, and I have observed and cannot help but commend the enthusiastic spirit with which you discharge your manifold duties. Such devotion, if rightly understood, must inspire every member of the department, and I venture to say in this connection that at the head of each sub-division you have men of experience, ability and unquestioned integrity..

The Boston Election Department is justly held up as a model for the whole country and in reviewing the causes which led to such an enviable reputation there crystallize in my mind the words: Service, Cooperation and Efficiency. Those are the watchwords which will make "our" Department the pride of our beloved City of Boston.

With the best wishes for every member of the Board and for every one of my colleagues I remain very respectfully

Henry L. Pelkus.

His membership on this Board covered a period of twelve years, and from the year 1926, until his decease, he served as its Chairman.

During his long public service in State and City, he served faithfully and well. The devotion shown in the discharge of his duties as Chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners; his keen interest in affairs effecting the public; the happy home life and the consideration he held for his fellow men were but a few of the sterling qualities that marked his entire career.
